

THE SILVER BILL.

It will Very Likely Take Precedence of the Tariff Bill.

REASONS FOR MAKING WOOL FREE

The Chinese Question Before the House—The Delago Bay Railway Trouble—Prohibition in Iowa.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—Chairman McKinley, of the ways and means committee, announced today that it would be some time before the tariff bill comes up in the House for discussion. He says the interest in the pending silver bill, recently reported from the committee on coinage weights and measures, is so great that it is advisable to dispose of it first. The friends of the bill think it will be called up about a week hence. Its discussion will probably occupy two full weeks under the most favorable circumstances. Therefore the tariff bill will not get before the House until the last of April or the 1st of May.

In Favor of Free Wool.

Boston, March 28.—The Commercial Bulletin says a secret meeting of the new Wool Consumers' association today decided that all the business experience of this and other manufacturing countries shows that the interests of all classes are favored by free raw material, and the interests of the wool growers, who are the only producers and consumers of this country require that wool and other raw materials be free.

The Delago Bay Railway Claims.

LONDON, March 28.—The claims of England and the United States on account of the seizure of the Delago Bay railway by the Portuguese, have been settled except for a few formalities.

The Tithes Bill.

LONDON, March 28.—The tithes bill passed its second reading in the commons to-night.

The Prohibitory Law in Iowa.

DES MOINES, March 28.—The Republican Club caucus this evening decided against a repeal of the prohibitory liquor law and in favor of re-submission.

The Storm Reaches Canada.

Toronto, March 28.—The storm which reached Ontario yesterday and subsided today. High gales prevailed and snow and hail fell. There are bad drifts everywhere and travel is much obstructed. Several schooners are reported considerably damaged by the storm, and one or two are total wrecks.

Dense Fog Off the Irish Coast.

LONDON, March 28.—A dense fog prevails on the Irish coast, and it is presumed the steamer City of Paris is proceeding direct to Liverpool without touching at Queenstown.

The City Council.

OAKDEN, March 28.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—The council met at the usual hour, and in the absence of the mayor, Alderman Shilling presided.

H. Cooke asked permission to occupy a space of about twenty-five by fifty feet of the ungrated part of Union square, for the exhibition of a model of the City and Temple of ancient Jerusalem, for a period of twenty days.

The petition was granted, only Councilman Douglas voting against it.

H. H. Geiger asked to be appointed to a position on the police force.

Referred to police committee.

A petition, signed by several citizens, asked for the appointment of D. J. Douvan to a position in the city.

Referred to the committee on fire department.

M. O. Creed and others asked that the city water mains be laid on Moore street, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets, representing that they were now compelled to pump water from the street.

Referred to committee on water supply.

A. H. Nelson and others asked that the section line between sections 36 and 37 and sections 38 and 39 be declared to be the center of Adams avenue, from the military academy south to Perry's mill.

Referred to city engineer.

The Stuebacher Bros. Manufacturing company asked for the privilege of repairing sheds or building a structure in the rear of the building on the corner of Adams avenue and Twenty-third streets, for the purpose of storing carriages, etc.

Referred to the building inspection committee.

Thirty-two citizens asked that the standing order of the council in relation to the width of the streets through the center of blocks be modified, so that fifty feet be substituted for four rods.

Referred to the committee on fire department.

A. H. Whelan moved that it be so ordered that the city engineer be authorized to lay the franchise over one week for a third reading was made and carried.

The sidewalk ordinance was read, and Alderman Proshar moved that it be passed. The motion prevailed unanimously.

Phillip Ford was allowed to retain 30 per cent. of the day tax collected.

The committee on fire department reported that they had tested the steam fire engine and were satisfied with it, and recommended its acceptance. Report adopted.

The committee on fire department recommended a compromise between the fire department and the firemen by the purchase of the steamer for $1,000, instead of $300, as was agreed upon for manufacture.

The rate on various grades, however, will not be uniform, and in some instances will be below 40 per cent.

Nickel coins are placed on the free list.

Reductions in sugar will be 35 and 40 per cent.

Don Berlepp's Farewell Dinner.

BREITERS, March 28.—Minister of Commerce, Don Berlepp, gave a farewell dinner to the Labor conference delegates to-night.

A TORNADO'S WORK.

The City of Louisville is Visited by a Terrible Cyclone.

DEBRIS FILLS THE STREETS.

And Under the Debris are the Dead and the Dying—A Scene of Devastation and Sorrow Everywhere.

LOUISVILLE, March 28.—As night closed in its folds on the devastated city of Louisville, scores of widows and orphans bowed down with the weight of deepest grief. Wreck and ruins have settled down in its very midst, and the specters of the dead whose funeral pyres are the heaps of bricks and mortar, seem to rise up and enshroud in the awful halo of their presence the entire city. Bands of brave rescuers continue to work, but as night comes on they seem to work more silently, though no less ardently. As each remnant of piles of wreckage is lifted it is with the anticipation of uncovering to view the lifeless form of a death-stricken victim of a human victim of the awful storm. But there is no time to consider the dead, for the living may yet be buried beneath the mountains of debris, and they turn and delve again with renewed energy into the great mass and search for survivors.

The Greatest Flood Ever Known Coming.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The signal service bureau issues a special river bulletin warning the people of the lower Mississippi to prepare for the greatest flood ever known in the history of the river, which will reach the mouth of the river with authority on New York weather.

WILD WITH ANGER.

AMERICAN LADIES IN ROME ARE ARRESTED ON THE FALSE CHARGE OF A MURDER.

(Special to THE HERALD—Examiner Cable.)—ROME, March 28.—American ladies in Rome wild with anger over an outrageous incident. The wife of a wealthy Californian, who is living at the Hotel Royal, went in a stage to examine some coral and shell ornaments. She was accompanied by her daughter, a young lady of about twenty years of age. After looking over various trifles offered for sale they were in the act of leaving when the merchant claimed to have missed some of his ornaments and made a great outcry. The ladies were indignant at the pretense, but Giovanni called the police through the streets to the police station. Here the ladies burst into tears and protested against the disgrace brought upon them without any slight provocation.

Consul General Bourn heard of the matter.

and in half an hour Vice Consul Wood was on the spot. He was told that the American gentlemen hurried down to the Hotel Quirinal to assist in the work of recovering the stolen goods. Giovanni had signed an accusation. He was joined by a friend, who also keeps a store and who was the stationer of the hotel. The ladies in his establishment just before something disappeared. When the merchants learned that they were accusing poor women, they were indignant and withdrew their charges and signed an apology. I suppress the names of the persons out of consideration for their feelings.

A Great Calamity Imminent.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Sergeant Dunn, of the signal service, says: One of the greatest calamities the country has ever known is imminent, and that it is the duty of the press to warn the people of the lower Mississippi and the Gulf of Mexico of the danger that is threatening them.

He says it will be the greatest calamity that has ever befallen that section.

In spite of the crocodile carrying off millions of gallons of water every second, the height of the river at Vicksburg and Cairo is now about twenty feet above the stage of the flood limit. This shows that the channel of the river below is choked with the debris of a model of the City and Temple of ancient Jerusalem, for a period of twenty days. The petition was granted, only Councilman Douglas voting against it.
